PART C

INFORMATION ABOUT REGULATORY FEES

The Federal Communications Commission, by Congressional mandate, implemented a regulatory fee schedule to recover costs incurred by the Commission relative to policy and rulemaking actions, as well as its enforcement, user information and international activities.

The regulatory fees do not currently apply to Amateur Radio Services (except Vanity call signs), governmental entities, Commercial Radio Operator Permits and Licenses, Non-commercial Educational Broadcast stations, Special Emergency & Public Safety Radio Services, modifications of existing authorizations unless that modification results in a renewal or reinstatement for which a regulatory fee is required, and non-profit entities. Non-profit entities must provide a current Determination Letter from the Internal Revenue Service when filing documentation for non-profit status under IRS Code § 501 or current certification as a non-profit corporation or other non-profit entity by state or other governmental authority.

These regulatory fees will be assessed annually and will apply to those licensees and entities, which benefit from the Commission's regulatory activities, other than licensing or application processing functions. Among the services affected by these fees are the Media Services and Commercial Mobile Radio Services (CMRS). The regulatory fees for Media and Commercial Mobile Radio Services (CMRS) are paid on a predetermined date established by Public Notice (See Public Notices regarding FY 2007 payments). The regulatory fees for other Wireless Telecommunications Services are paid in advance to cover the term of the license and are submitted along with the application fee at the time the application is filed except for Local Multipoint Distribution. See Part B for additional information on the other Wireless Telecommunications Services regulatory fees.

Regulatory fees may be adjusted annually by the Commission pursuant to § 9 of the Communications Act 47 U.S.C. 159.
