Consumer Outreach

Describe consumer outreach efforts in the past 12 months: South Canaan Cellular Communications Company, L.P. (SCCC) maintains a public website displaying the entire selection of handsets that are hearing aid compatible (HAC) compliant and their M and T ratings. The members of the SCCC sales staff are trained to assist customers in identifying HAC compliant handsets. Customers can identify whether a handset is HAC compliant and whether it uses acoustic coupling or inductive coupling by either reviewing the packaging that comes with the handset, or by checking the company website or by speaking to a member of the sales staff. Customers are also directed on our website to review additional information resources regarding HAC compliant handsets at www.accesswireless.org/hearingaid/brochures.cfm

Methodology for Functionality Levels

South Canaan Cellular Communications Company, L.P. has identified four (4) increasing levels of functionality that are the main drivers in a customer's choice of a handset. These levels of functionality are: (Level 1) Voice only capability, (Level 2) Voice and Short Message Service (SMS) Capability, (Level 3) Voice, SMS and Web Browsing (WB) capability and (Level 4) Voice, SMS, WB and Multi-Media (ability to take and send pictures) capability. SCCC offers multiple HAC compliant handsets that achieve the two highest levels of functionality. Because of our efforts to offer a variety of HAC compliant handsets that come in a range of price points, have a variety of different styles (flip open, clamshell etc.) come with or without cameras, come with or without full QWERTY keyboards, come with or without touchscreens and that utilize various operating systems that give access to different applications and ancillary feature rich capabilities, we believe that hearing impaired customers who choose our service have access to a wide variety of handset choices that are similar to those offered to non-hearing impaired customers.
