Product Labeling

Do all hearing aid-compatible handsets include labeling? Yes

Explain:

Do all hearing aid-compatible handsets that were tested under ANSI C63.19-2007, and that are capable of voice communication over any air interface or frequency band that does not have hearing aid compatibility technical standards under ANSI C63.19-2007, include the required language disclosing that the handset has not been rated for hearing aid compatibility with respect to such operation?

Yes

Explain:

Do all hearing aid-compatible handsets that were certified only under ANSI C63.19-2007, but that the manufacturer also tested and found not to meet hearing aid compatibility requirements under ANSI C63.19-2011 for one or more operations that are not covered under ANSI C63.19-2007, include language informing users by clear and effective means that the handset does not meet the relevant rating or ratings with respect to such operation(s)?

Yes

Explain:

Do all handsets that are capable of use for Voice over LTE, and that were certified for inductive coupling capability under ANSI C63.19-2011 without being tested for inductive coupling capability over VoLTE, include language disclosing that they were not tested with respect to this operation?

Yes

Explain:

Do all handsets that meet the criteria for an M3 rating by allowing the user to reduce the maximum power for GSM operation in the 1900 MHz band include the required disclosure?

Explain:

Public Website

Does your company maintain a public website describing all hearing aid-compatible models, the ratings of those models, and an explanation of the rating system? Service provider websites must include the levels of functionality that the service provider has defined, the level that each hearing aid-compatible model falls under, and an explanation of how the functionality of the handsets varies at the different levels.

Report Remarks

Pursuant to Sections 1.3 and 1.925 of the Commission's Rules, Manti Tele Communications, Inc. ("Manti" or the "Company") respectfully requests a waiver/extension of the January 15, 2016 deadline for filing its 2015 Hearing Aid Compatibility Status Report (FCC Form 655). The Commission may waive its rules, in whole or in part, for good cause shown. Alternatively, the Commission may grant a request for waiver if it is shown that: (i) The underlying purpose of the rule(s) would not be served or would be frustrated by application to the instant case, and that a grant of the requested waiver would be in the public interest; or (ii) In view of unique or unusual factual circumstances of the instant case, application of the rule(s) would be inequitable, unduly burdensome or contrary to the public interest, or the applicant has no reasonable alternative.

In Manti's case, the Company is a very small CMRS service provider in rural Utah. The Company intended to file a timely 2015 HAC Report, but an email that the Company sent to its Washington DC telecommunications attorney on December 23rd along with information necessary for counsel to complete the 2015 report filing was either lost or mistakenly deleted. Thus, Manti inadvertently missed the Form 655 filing deadline due to an administrative oversight. Upon recognizing the oversight, Manti (through counsel) took immediate steps to report this oversight to FCC staff and to submit the 2015 HAC Report as soon as possible. Because all of the CDMA wireless handsets that Manti makes available to its customers are HAC-enabled, and since full information about the compatibility ratings of these devices and the HAC standard generally were available at all times on the Company web site, no member of the public was harmed and nobody will be prejudiced by the Commission's acceptance of Manti's late 2015 report.

In light of the foregoing, Manti believes that strict enforcement of the HAC reporting deadline in its case would be contrary to the public interest and that the underlying purpose of the HAC reporting rule would not be served by such strict enforcement. Manti is a small rural telephone company and wireless service provider, and its limited staff and financial resources would be put to far better use in extending access to advanced wireless services to remote communities. Manti has a long history of regulatory compliance, 100 percent of the wireless handsets that the Company makes available to customers are HAC-compliant (well in excess of the minimum thresholds under the Commission's rules), and the Company has always filed its previous years' HAC reports in timely fashion. Finally, Manti and its counsel are taking immediate steps to remediate the Company's failure to timely file its 2015 HAC report and it brought this matter to the Wireless Bureau's attention without the need for staff intervention.
